In and About The City

Training School Exercises. The Public Day exercises of the members of the graduating class of the training school will be held at School No. 10, May 21, from 2 to 4 p. m.

Photographic Assistant. The United States civil service commission announces that on July 17, 1902, an examination will be held for the position of photographic assistant.

Another Smallpox Case. Dr. J. W. Hunter discovered yesterday afternoon that Thomas Lewis, of Leggett's street, was suffering from smallpox. He ordered the house placed under quarantine at once.

Thanksgiving Remon. The annual thanksgiving sermon to the members of southern lodge, G. E. O. of O. E., will be preached in Guernsey's hall by Rev. R. H. Bunnell, at 7:30 p. m. Sunday. The public is cordially invited to attend. Seats free.

Binghamton Elopers. F. J. Holmes, clerk at the Arlington hotel, Binghamton, and Miss Catherine V. Miller, the daughter of a prominent family of that city, were married at the latter place in this city Tuesday afternoon. They left yesterday on a wedding tour through the southern part of the state.

Mountain and Lake Resorts. The Lackawanna railroad has issued its yearly book, giving information regarding the summer resorts along its lines. It is handsomely printed, and illustrated with scenes of views taken along the line. The book was prepared by William Baggett Hunter, and is one of the most attractive ever issued by a railroad in this country.

Board of Trade Meeting. The regular monthly meeting of the Scranton board of trade will be held Monday, May 19, at 7:30 p. m. The applications for membership of P. Matthews and John V. P. Quackenbush will be voted upon. Nominations for secretary will probably be made and a motion for a general notice will engage the attention of the board. Free dinner at 1 o'clock.

To Open Headquarters. The committee in charge of the national stadium, to be held in this city on Memorial Day, will open headquarters next week in the vacant store at Linden street, near Washington avenue. A bureau of information will be established and the next diagram opened. Fifty orders have been appointed and will be in charge of Barrett and L. B. Carter.

Mr. Sadler's Position. William H. Sadler, civil engineer, who has been with the International Correspondence Schools, preparing a text book of the higher mathematics, dealing with the employment of spiral curves in railroad construction, has accepted a position with the Delaware and Hudson company in taking out a new line of railroad between Fairbanks and Saranac Lake, a distance of 100 miles, to replace the narrow gauge route now in operation between those points. Mr. Sadler has been connected with the engineering de-

"I have derived great benefit from the use of Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism and lumbago," says Mrs. Anna Hagegans, of Tuckahoe, N. J. "My husband used it for a sprained back and was also quickly relieved. In fact it is the best family balm I have ever used. I would not think of being without it. I have recommended it to many and they all declare its merits are wonderful." For sale by all druggists.

statements of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and Delaware and Hudson, and was for some years first assistant city engineer of Scranton.

Collision on the Erie. A slight wreck occurred yesterday morning on the Erie railroad near Rock Junction. The road freight and a gravel train collided, but the only damage done was the breaking of the wheels on both engines and derailing the segments of the gravel train, which blocked the road at that point for about two hours, during which time trains were run via West Junction.

Plans for R. R. Y. M. C. A. The plans for the proposed new Railroad Young Men's Christian association building have been accepted, and as soon as they are ready will be submitted to contractors for bids. The twenty-four month anniversary exercises of the association will be deferred until the laying of the cornerstone. The architectural work of the new building will be done by L. C. Holden, of New York. The total amount already pledged is $28,600.45.

Many Want Work. Already the effects of the miners' strike are beginning to be felt in city hall. When Director of Public Works Roche got down to his office yesterday morning he found the streets almost deserted, waiting, anxious to get a job on the streets. Upwards of thirty others called in search of work during the day. Nearly all the men who are registered are now working for the department of public works, and very few others can be given places just at present.

Two Piano Recitals. It was announced on the programme of the Conservatory recital, on Thursday evening that, with the splendid Schuler concert-grand piano recently sent from New York by the manufacturers for the Conservatory recitals, Mr. Pennington would give a recital to the Conservatory students in Guernsey hall. Students whose initials are from A to L will attend the recital on Tuesday evening, May 27, and on June 3, the recital will be repeated, to those from M to Z.

AUDITORS' REPORT Poor District Accounts Pronounced to Be All O. K.—Condition of the Hillside Home.

W. J. Costello, Walter Christmas and John Morris, the auditors for the Scranton poor district, made their report yesterday to the board in which they approved of the district's condition in the annual report of the secretary of the board for the year ending December 31, printed some months ago. This report showed that the total disbursements for the year ending December 31 were $101,529.11.

In the course of a few general remarks the auditors say: "We found the interior of the several buildings comprising the Hillside Home to be remarkably clean. The inmates look comfortable and clean and mostly healthy. A lack of room in some of the wards is very noticeable and to this matter we would call the attention of the board."

The auditors also report that they have devised a new system of book-keeping for use at the home which will be reported to the board in a separate report to tell instantly just what supplies, etc., are on hand at the end of each month.

Director Fuller called the attention of the board to the fact that both St. Patrick's orphan asylum and the Home for the Friendless will agree to take all the children whom the board may send them providing that permission will be given them to indenture them. Under the present system anywhere from $200 to $400 a year is paid to each of these institutions by the board. A resolution was presented and adopted providing for execution of a contract with both these organizations.

It was decided to ask Attorney John E. Scragg, the board's solicitor, for a written opinion as to whether or not the board is obliged to receive insane patients from outside the district and care for them at the Hillside Home. The general opinion is that such patients must be cared for, if paid for, but at least one member of the board refused to believe this until he sees it in black and white over the solicitor's signature.

Patrick Tierney, of 522 Luzerne street, a kindly faced old man whose children will not care for him and who is unable to do any hard work, was admitted to the home at his own request. It could be seen that it was a great struggle for him to make the request because of his sense of pride and the members of the board felt keenly for him.

Mrs. Richard McArthur, of Welles street, whose husband deserted her a year ago, applied for relief and her case was referred to Director Shotton.

See Depot Ticket Agent in regard to stop off privileges, variable routes, side trips, Pullman reservations, etc.

Intercollegiate Regatta, Ithaca, N. Y., May 30th. For the above occasion ticket agents of the Lackawanna railroad will sell first class tickets to Ithaca and return at regular one way fare for the round trip. Tickets will be sold good going May 29th and 30th limited for return May 29th and 30th. Children between the ages of 5 and 13 years one-half the adult rate.

Dr. H. B. Ware will return Monday evening.

PLANS FOR THE NEW SHOPS

HAVE BEEN PREPARED BY THE LACKAWANNA.

They Contemplate the Removal of the Motive Power Department to Buildings to Be Erected on the Site of the North Mill—Car Shops Will Be Located Some Place Between Bellevue and Taylor—Nothing Definite Known About How Soon Work Will Begin.

The new repair shops which the Lackawanna railroad contemplate erecting within the next two years, will positively be built in Scranton, and the new car repairing shops will be built on land adjacent to the Bloomsburg division, between Bellevue and Taylor, but just at what point cannot now be stated.

Improvements will be made involving an expenditure of between $1,500,000, and $2,000,000. The plans for the new shops are now in the hands of the officials and architects, but work may be deferred for some time on account of the present strike among the mine workers.

According to the plans outlined to a representative of The Tribune, the company proposes to extend its Scranton yard limits south of the present yard, and take in the land occupied by the machine shops, blacksmith shops, stores department buildings, planing mill, carpenter shop, pattern shop, moulding shop and car painting shop.

This will mean the clearance of all the present buildings located west of Washington avenue, with the exception of the new round house, now in course of completion, and the new engine painting shop adjoining. A part of the latter has already been torn down to make room for the additional stalls of the round house and it may be necessary to remove more of this building.

TEMPORARY ADDITION. Work has just commenced on a temporary addition to the present machine shops, which will be 40x230 feet in size. In the course of a few general remarks the auditors say: "We found the interior of the several buildings comprising the Hillside Home to be remarkably clean. The inmates look comfortable and clean and mostly healthy. A lack of room in some of the wards is very noticeable and to this matter we would call the attention of the board."

The shops in which the wood working is done for car repair work will be located on the Bloomsburg division, and will include all the work and possibly more now done under the supervision of Master Carpenter Canfield. The old shops on the easterly side of Washington avenue, between the main line tracks and the old steel mill site, will also be torn down, to permit the extension of the yard tracks.

Another feature which will prove a decided innovation, will be the elevation or depressing of the Washington avenue roadway to permit the running of trains underneath in the yard. This will do away entirely with the present grade crossings at that point. The yard limits will extend eastward to Mattes street and south as far as River street.

the tract of land known as the North Steel mill site, and adjacent to their present shops on the easterly side of Washington avenue. On this land will be erected some of the most modern motive power repairing and machine shops in the United States.

The work done at present under the supervision of Superintendent of Motive Power and Machinery T. S. Lloyd will be transferred to these shops, and it is quite possible that the bulk of the repair work for the entire system will be concentrated in this city.

The work of tearing down the old steel mill walls is being pushed rapidly and the lands will be cleared as soon as possible to make way for the proposed new shops. The plans for this extensive improvement were drawn up nearly two years ago, but were pigeon-holed on account of the strike of the car builders and machinists in this city last year.

At that time there was a possibility of the proposed new shops being located in Binghamton. That the shops will now be erected in Scranton is a positive fact, if they are erected at all, and the work will require upwards of two years for completion.

FROM BOSTON TRANSCRIPT. What That Paper Has to Say of Miss Stone's Lecture. The interest in the coming lecture by Miss Ellen M. Stone on Monday evening next increases as the event draws near and the Lyceum will, no doubt, be filled by the many who wish to hear the thrilling story of her captivity and release. Wherever she has appeared she has been greeted with enthusiasm. The Boston Transcript, speaking of her lecture, says:

"We have heard her on the platform recite her experiences, and apart from personal interest in her testify that her lectures are graphic, thrilling and worthy of wide hearing for the information as to matters which now command attention throughout the Christian world. We give her our unqualified indorsement and express our conviction that those who hear her will not go away disappointed."

CLOSE OF THE FIRST WEEK

COMMON PLEAS LIST CLEANED UP YESTERDAY.

Verdict for the Plaintiff Is Practically the Full Amount of the Claim in the Case of Partridge Against Morris—Mrs. Snyder Gets a Verdict of $4.28—Max Herring Again at Liberty After Many Trials and Tribulations—An Incurable Boy. Sales by the Sheriff.

The case of O. B. Partridge, assignee, against George H. Morris, trading as the Morris Decorative company, was concluded yesterday morning before Judge Wheaton, in common pleas. The jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $915.53, or about $50 less than the full amount of the claim.

The case of Orlando Roselle against E. E. Lewis and wife, which was interrupted in its trial Wednesday by the inability of Attorney R. A. Zimmerman to be present, was resumed before Judge Wheaton at the conclusion of the Partridge-Morris case. The jury went out at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

In Judge Kelly's court a verdict of $4.28 in favor of the plaintiff was returned in the case of Sarah E. Snyder against John Davis and A. B. Wideman.

The case of Deishemer and Griffin against Mary Smith was settled, judgment by agreement, was entered in favor of the plaintiff for $2,953.33. The case of E. E. Thomas against Margaret Collins and the case of E. E. Thomas against Nora Collins, were referred to Attorney J. E. Watkins.

Herring Again Free. Among the prisoners yesterday released from the county jail because of the cases against them having been ignored, was the much-arrested Max Herring, who was arrested two months ago on the charge of horse stealing. Herring was in jail serving time for looting the till of a trunker wagon. A fellow prisoner was Byron Simrell, of Scott, who was just finishing a year's imprisonment for stealing a horse. At the trial, Simrell stoutly maintained he bought the horse of a young man for $10 and as the animal was stated to be not worth much more, many who heard the trial were prone to believe Simrell's story. The jury, however, thought otherwise and convicted him.

One day last March, Simrell and Herring were part of a gang of prisoners who were put to work making some repairs in the rear of the jail. As soon as Simrell saw Herring he picked on him as the man from whom he bought the horse. Herring was convicted of having stolen. Simrell was released from jail before Herring's time expired and when the latter emerged through the iron doors he was arrested on a warrant charging him with horse stealing. It was sworn out by Simrell before Sheriff Mason, of Glynnport. Herring was re-committed and his case went before the last grand jury. Simrell's identification was positive, but the evidence was not sufficient in the minds of the jurors to effect a conviction and the bill was ignored.

Jacob Ellman, who was sent to the penitentiary for two and a half years for subornation of perjury on the testimony of Herring was recently released. Fortunately their legal feud is at an end for neither can ever again be a witness in court. Others released from the county jail because of their cases having been ignored are: Nora Bryden, Edna Blackmore, Harry Corder, Walenty Blimacki, Edward T. Davis, Max Herring, Patrick Maxwell, Albert E. Adams, James Joseph Volas, Alfred Podley, Hiram Race, Philip Seamore.

An Incurable Boy. Court was yesterday petitioned to send Edward James Bouray to the House of Refuge in Philadelphia, because of incurability. The petitioner is the boy's uncle, Edward Charles Bouray, who has been his guardian since he was made an orphan. Judge Edwards fixed Monday, May 19, at 4:30 p. m. for a hearing on the petition.

Orphans' Court. In the orphans' court yesterday Judge A. A. Vosburg heard the audit in the estate of Mrs. M. Everhart, deceased, which is a distribution audit, no exceptions having been filed to the account. Testimony was taken to show the parties entitled to the fund and in what proportions. Attorney I. H. Burns appeared for the accountant Dr. F. E. Evers.

The audit in the estate of Martha Moore a minor child of John Moore, deceased, was also heard. The guardian Herman Hagen, and the minor Martha Moore both being sworn as to the correctness of the account. The minor having arrived at the age of 21 years this account was filed as a final account and distribution will be ordered accordingly. P. W. Stokes, esq., appeared for the guardian.

In the estate of John Moore a minor child of John Moore, deceased, on motion of P. W. Stokes and on notice to Barbara Moore mother and next friend of the minor, who is now of age, and who has settled with the guardian and given him a release, a decree was handed down directing that the said guardian be discharged from the duties of his trust and his bondsmen released from liability.

Sales by the Sheriff. Sheriff Schadt conducted sales in the grand jury room yesterday morning. The properties sold, their buyers, and the considerations are as follows: Property of John H. Thomas, in Carbondale, to Mary Ann Jones, for $125. Property of Charles Knowles, et al., in Scranton, to New York Mutual Savings and Loan association, for $65.91. Property of James B.
